INTRODUCTION

CHAPTER - 1

INTRODUCTION

The objective of this chapter is to introduced background of the lyari community, sports advantages, sports conditions and effect of the sports .
The Chapter covers the introduction of the problem, the background behind this and what methodology should be followed to achieve the effective results of the whole research.
The chapter starts with the introduction of the chapter which is followed by the Background, , rationale, introduction of the topic, scope, tentative methodology, and expected results.

1.1 BACKGROUND:

In Karachi, eighteenth constituent metropolis of Sindh is Lyari town, that's the smallest town by way of region in Karachi. Being a smallest metropolis it's miles the maximum densely populated place.
The area under my study for my thesis is Lyari .Lyari is one of the old settlement of Karachi city. Lyari is situated to the east of sadder and to the north of Lyari river it has a population of about one million ,Lyari is called as a mini-Pakistan as its habitants peoples belongs to the number of divers ethnic backgrounds like baloch, Punjabis, pathans, muhajir ,seraiki,bori, Christian etc. who has been settled in the locality since the late 60s.Lyari is not very well-developed area .The is area is urbanized with lower class .however it encompasses more than a new developed middle class areas but unfortunately due to the lack of funds it still in the list of underdeveloped area which we mostly considered as slums.The people of Lyari are majority of whom are African originated makrani’s (sheedi’s).These sheedi’s are exceptionally capable of holding much talent, especially in sports. But they don’t have proper platform.

1.2 INTRODUCTION TO THE TOPIC:

A sport is an aggressive, engaging, and able action requiring responsibility, procedure, and reasonable play. Throughout the world sports is a big business and provide employment and income for the players. The government is completing a really terrible activity at mitigating youth joblessness. . One industry that the administration has overlooked significantly is Sports. Sports have turned into a major industry which whenever oversaw well could offer youth out of neediness and joblessness.

Lyariites have been known for being passionate sports man; excelling in games like football, kabaddi, swimming, cycling, gymnastics and boxing. Although Lyari is Karachi's poorest and crime-infested slum but has produced the bulk of Pakistan's champions footballer and boxers. But unfortunately many sportsmen, who are very good and talented in their game, are most often not promoted to the professional level and if someone is even promoted to the professional level. He is neglected after retirement and their financial condition becomes worst. Because of such conditions the sportsmen of Lyari are pulled toward criminal activities.

Since sports is the only element that we can use to keep the youth of Lyari away from the crimes, drugs and terrorism. The strategy is to develop the sports infrastructure and also increase employment opportunities .provide a productive and positive outlet for the youth, as a counter to the rampant crime and growing violence in Lyari town.

1.3 RESEARCH QUESTIONS:

- Why the talent of Lyari is ignored?
- How sportsmen of Lyari turned into hard criminals?
- Reason behind the increasing rate of unemployment in Lyari.
- What are the health and financial requirement for the sportsmen of Lyari?

1.4 RATIONALE AND JUSTIFICATION:

Considering the fact that Lyari is a place which is now a day known as more because of its gang wars and criminal activities and considered as a No-go area.it has become an area where violence and crime has become a routine. the only way that can turned the scene is to advance the sports opportunities, open doors for lyarities otherwise hunger, unemployment, revenge, fear and pressure will give birth to a lot more gangsters and criminals.

1.5 SCOPE AND PARAMETERS:

Since the focus of design thesis is uplifting the economic opportunities for the youth of Lyari through sports. Different visits to Lyari sports institutes, sports grounds and territory are essential to comprehend the genuine need of the issue.

1.6 TENTATIVE METHODOLOGY'S:

The research will generally be founded on subjective system. The approach will be followed in the accompanying request.

- Literature review of concerned Book and reports.
- Case studies.
- Interviews with sportsmen's, coaches, social workers and local people.

1.7 EXPECTED RESULTS:

The task will be centered on decreasing unemployment rate and crime rate, through Sports in Lyari. By providing a proper sports platform, top quality sports training and opportunities. We will ensure to achieve the objective.

2.2 DEFINITION AND DESCRIPTIONS:

2.2.1 SPORTS:

Sports is an action including physical effort and expertise in which an individual or group contends with another or others for entertainment.

2.2.2 SPORTS PSYCHOLOGY:

Sports psychology is the study of how psychology impacts sports, athletic execution, work out, and physical movement. Some sports psychologists work with professional competitors and mentors to enhance execution and increment inspiration. Different experts use exercise and games to upgrade individuals' lives and prosperity all through the whole lifespan. They likewise work with competitors to enhance execution and recoup from wounds.

2.3 CRIME PREVENTION THROUGH SPORTS:

Sport and physical activity have crime prevention potential. Young people can personally benefit from these programs.
Game and physical movement can consolidate with different mediations to decrease crime in particular groups and communities. It gives the idea that game and physical action can decrease crime by giving open, proper exercises in a strong social setting. As such, sport and physical action must be associated decidedly inside the social texture of gatherings and networks. World class wearing bodies can be associated with programs specifically went for specific violations. (Cameron M & MacDougall C. 2000. Canberra: Australian Institute of Criminology).

2.4 CONTEXT BASED LITERATURE REVIEW:

2.4.1 Lyari:

"Lyari is celebrated as one of the most established settlements in Karachi. It has an African minority ethnic gathering, a relic of the slave exchange, and a populace of games fans and sportsmen, including footballers and boxers that have advanced to universal level" (Yusuf, 2012).

2.4.2 Social characteristics:

Lyari began as Baloch and Sindhi settlement, be that as it may, after some time other ethnic gatherings relocated to the territory, especially Pashtuns, Punjabi and Muhajir who together currently parallel the Baloch Littler enclaves of Hindus and Christians likewise exist. Independent of the socioeconomics, PPP hosts been the predominant political get-together in the Lyari supporters since 1970 (Gayer, 2014, p.144).

2.4.3 Sports in lyari:

Lyarities have been known for being passionate sports-lover, excelling in games like football, boxing. Kabaddi, gymnastics, cycling etc.

2.4.4 Football in lyari:

Lyari is home to 128 enroll football clubs and 3 stadiums alluded to as smaller than usual Brazil Lyari has for year, house the most passionate spots fans. Games that are generally disliked in Pakistan are played here. Lyari is known as a football hotbed in Pakistan. A large number of the country's best players originate from the territory Lyari created a portion of Pakistan's most prominent footballers, for example, Abdul Ghafoor Majna, Musa Ghazi, Turab Ali, Captain Umar, Husain Killer, and so on. The kids of Lyari are considered to be 'born footballers' as they inherit technique and skill from their elders. But sadly, the authorities are loath to provide them with proper infrastructure, professional coaching and academies. It would happen only if a serious initiative is taken by the Pakistan Football Federation (PFF) to organize football in the area.
“A footballer from Lyari at the age of 12 years is as talented as any footballer from Brazil or Europe at the same age” (former head coach Tariq Lutfi).

Lyari acquired the (unofficial) status of being the hub of football in Pakistan. Before and after the partition of the sub-continent, fishing and offloading Greek and other European ships in a nearby river were the only means of subsistence for the people of Lyari. When foreign ships, particularly in between the two world wars, carrying food and other items, stopped over at the port, it usually took them more time to offload as there were no facilities which we find today. The crew members, who also happened to be footballers, would then ask the locals to organize matches in order that the foreigners could kill time. Railways Football Ground, Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA), Sindh Madrassa, Karachi Municipal Corporation (KMC) and Polo Ground became the hottest venues of those historic encounters in which mostly the teams from Lyari would win with a high margin despite playing barefoot because of poverty.

As the word about the skill of the footballers of Lyari went out to foreign shores, it enticed nations like Indonesia, Malaysia, Korea, China, Japan, Russia and Turkey to visit Pakistan. The Friday Times (Lahore, Pakistan) (June 27, 2010).

The inflow of foreigners also encouraged local financial institutions to recruit more players from Lyari and there came a time when there were around two dozen departmental football teams in Karachi. Lyari-based clubs including Pak Mughal, Keamari Union and Karachi Kickers also visited India. Lyari remained the sole stuff-provider to the Pakistan national team during that time. Legendary footballers including captain Muhammad Umar, Hussain Killer, Abdul Ghani Senior, Turab Ali, Ali Nawaz Baloch, late Abdullah Akber, Ismail Rosho, Altaf Ismail, Ustad Deen Muhammad, Ustad Dad Muhammad and Lal Muhammad came from Lyari ,Close to the site which is now People's Stadium, there was a big ground in Lyari called 'Ganji Ground' in which hundreds of footballers would practice their skills in the evening. But ironically, after People's Stadium was erected, the common footballers of the town were left with no option but to play in the streets and whatever rough patches of ground they would find, as the Stadium was used for tournaments only -- mostly of national and international levels. The Friday Times (Lahore, Pakistan) (June 27, 2010).

The current decade has not been too good for football in Lyari which is home to some 128 sports clubs. "The area is teeming with talent but it is being criminally neglected," says Nasir Karim, a renowned social worker and football official.

“When we see such a large number of football player associated with negative exercises, it is the consequence of poor financial conditions and absence of sports facilities” (Pakistan skipper Ali Nawaz)

“Closure of department teams had made a huge impact on football in Lyari. Beforehand, one could investigate ability through department teams. Player at that point had wellspring of salary .since so many departments have abolished their football teams where do the player acquire their living from now ?”(Pakistan skipper Ali Nawaz)

“Our players can't perform because of absence of legitimate facilities the administration ought to give appropriate facilities and lasting divisions occupations to football player who can speak to Pakistan at global level” (sameen Ibrahim uc-10 coach)

2. 4. 5 Boxing:

Beside playing football, Lyarities are celebrated for boxing., With more than 26 boxing clubs running exclusively or by gathering of previous boxers and Pakistan's first young lady's boxing club, it is frequently called the boxing manufacturing plant of Pakistan. It was Lyari that gave Pakistan it's national boxing champions, Jan Mohammad Baloch and Syed Hussain Shah. The most seasoned boxing club is the Lyari Labor Welfare Center Boxing Club, which was set up in 1940, preceding the production of Pakistan, by Mohammad Sattoo. Mohammad Sattoo is called 'Baba-e-Boxing' as he was the first who established the framework of confining society here around 1918.

2.5 RESEARCH ARGUMENTS:

Irrespective of an uncertain law and order situation and violence that are now synonymous with the area, Lyari keeps on producing passionate people, a majority of whom fight on to become champions. What set the people of Lyari apart is their love for sports and a carefree attitude to follow their passion.
Saher Baloch in his article “Lyari: a place where passion rides high”.
